

Merry Christmas

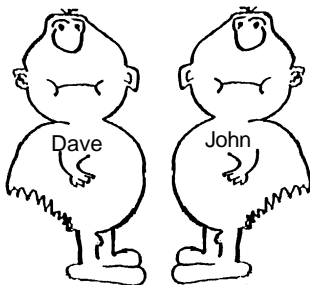

Yesteryear!!!!

What a great surprise we had this week when we received a call from our old friend Tom Tech. Tom has offered to loan his "Tech Trac 80" training slides to all of us canceled servicers in Fla. "Since many of your trained techs are gone, you will need my slides to train your new tech's." I thanked Tom for his most generous offer and told him "we would be in touch."

What do you say to the old guy? Why, I thought he was going to have a stroke when I mentioned the purchasing of "Generic Parts." I wanted to say, "wake up Tom, this is the 90's." "In today's business it's "All for One, And Screw the Rest"

Merry Christmas Tom!

Hey Guy's! What did the Board of Directors say about your new "Network"?

Remember, the illegal re-distribution of this newsletter is strictly prohibited. Recently acquired information on the locating and purchasing of generic parts will be withheld from anyone found guilty of this offense.

Gatortown USA.....

University of Florida Gator's Chef Paul, has replaced Pizza with Blackened Grouper as the Gator's pre-game meal for the upcoming battle against Nebraska in the Fiesta Bowl. Chef Paul says that he has given up on having his broken down Pizza Oven repaired. "I called the factory service center in October and no one has responded yet." "They told me something about too many alligators in the pond."

Cleveland OH.....

If the Indian's lost the Series and the Brown's are moving to Baltimore, then why is everyone in Cleveland talking about Boston????

Seems someone in Boston certainly has a hold of Mr. Muzzio's chain. We called a fellow servicer in Boston last week to see exactly what was happening, but couldn't understand what they were telling us..... ("Ya'll know, they speak a different language up there").. We will try to keep you informed on this dreadfully insignificant issue.

Everyone Please have a safe and Happy Holiday Season..... Until next year..... Merry Christmas

One thing about Floridian's..... They....

Don't EVER give up
